

The Gingerbread Learning Center

Spring is here!! The occupational therapy department was excited to plant with students at Gingerbread. The students enjoyed the sensory experience of playing with the dirt, and they enhanced their fine motor/visual motor skills as they scooped and poured dirt using gardening tool. it was a blast!

Gingerbread's students are also greatly benefiting from the occupational therapy departments news chalk board and dry erase walls. they are motivated to draw and color which will foster the development of their preschool and kindergarten readiness skills.

The physical therapists at Gingerbread are taking advantage of the beautiful weather and teaching some of the students to navigate playground equipment, and to ride tricycles. our students are developing and acquiring important gross motor skills.
